EXPLANATORY NOTES

Volume 81 of American Book Prices Current has been prepared by a team of editors highly experienced in the field of rare books and manuscripts. As its users know, ABPC is not just a transcribed record of titles and prices, copied unquestioningly from the season's auction catalogues. It is, on the contrary, the only work in English in which every listing of printed material has been checked as to title, format, date of publication, edition, and limitations. Bindings are described, with condition where relevant, and wherever possible maps and plates in books are verified. Moreover, sales of autographs and manuscripts are reported. Because of this, ABPC is an essential tool for buying, selling, and evaluating books, serials, autographs, manuscripts, broadsides, and maps, based on actual figures realized at auction. In the words of a reviewer in The Times Literary Supplement, it is "an accurate, indispensable tool for the antiquarian bookseller and collector." And, in addition to meeting the need for a dependable guide in determining the value of old and out-of-print books, ABPC serves as a reference work and as an aid to scholars in locating printed works and manuscripts of all centuries, from the earliest years to the present.

Because of the tremendously increased activity in recent years in the book and auction market and the resulting growth in the size of ABPC, we have been forced to choose between expanding to two volumes with a corresponding increase in cost to the user and reduced convenience in handling, or placing limits on certain categories not of prime interest to most users of ABPC. In brief, listings of books in non-Western languages realizing less than $100 or its equivalent have been judiciously reduced, and such peripheral works as printings of musical scores, collections of plates, panoramas, etc., have been excluded. In keeping with previous editorial policy, auction lots consisting of groupings of miscellaneous volumes are not listed, for the prices realized by such lots can give no accurate indication of the value of individual items. Similarly, listings of badly broken runs of periodicals or seriously incomplete sets of printed books do not appear. A feature is the presentation of autograph and manuscript listings in a single section, it being our belief that the convenience of the user is better served with but a single alphabet to work through than with an arbitrary division by chronological order. The economies in space realized by the foregoing have enabled us, on the other hand, to expand considerably the number of cross-references given, with a resultant increase in the convenience and usability of the book as a work of reference and guide to current prices.

American Book Prices Current is composed of two parts. Part I, Books, includes Broad­sides, single-sheet printings, Maps & Charts, and uncorrected proof copies. Part II, Autographs & Manuscripts, includes original illustrations for printed books, documents, letters, typescripts, corrected proofs, signed photographs, and signatures, as well as manuscripts.

Entries are listed alphabetically by author whenever possible, by title when the author's name is not readily available, or by Private Press and Club, printer, or publisher headings if such are the associations which attract the collector. In general, illustrated books are listed under the author of the text. Subject headings such as England, Maps & Charts, Hebrew Books, Collections of Voyages, and Fore-Edge Paintings, or those for individual U.S. states or cities have also been used. Individual works are in turn listed alphabetically under each heading and include: title; place & date of publication; edition designation; number of volumes, when more than one; size, binding, and condition of binding; descriptive material, limitation notes, and the sale record — auction house (in code), date or number of sale, lot number, price, and purchaser (when such information has been provided).

There are cross-references to Club or Press books, to books bound together, and to books by more than one author.

Listings of 20th-century books frequently lack format and binding. In such instances it may be assumed that these books are octavo or duodecimo and bound in cloth. It has been the practice not to include such information for books published after 1900.

Volume 81 lists only those books and manuscripts which sold for at least $20 or its equivalent in another currency. During the season the value of the British Pound varied between $2.43 and $2.11, and that of the Canadian Dollar between $1.0160 and $.96. The Dutch Florin ranged between 2.35 and 2.71 to the American Dollar, and the French Franc between 3.99 and 4.76 to the American Dollar. The following buyers' surcharges should also be noted: In Holland 16% and 10 cents per item; in France 16% up to F6,000, 11.5% up to F20,000, 10% above F20,000. Prices reported by Swann Galleries drop the odd half-dollar, in accordance with the price lists provided by that house. Buyers' names are given when and as listed in price lists.

Our most particular thanks are due Jane Cherry, Susan Coleman, Patricia De Georges, Gerard Mayers, Barbara Robey, Elizabeth Overton, Eugenia Schwarz, and the superb staff of Automated Composition Service.

THE AUCTION SEASON

Volume 81 of American Book Prices Current reports the auction season from September 1974 to August 1975. Included are sales at the leading houses of London, Paris, Utrecht, Montreal, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. This volume contains over 29,000 entries from more than 180 sales.

Several auction houses enjoyed a record-breaking season. Inflation accounted for some price rises, but the outstanding quality and interest of many of the books and manuscripts sold was largely responsible for these increases. More prominent than heretofore were such categories as Orientalia, children's books, photographica, and medical books. Some softness was becoming apparent in the lower price ranges of other categories, particularly Americana, which suffered from earlier over-anticipation of the Bicentennial.

And it was a season which celebrated the emergence of a previously unknown Elizabethan poet. The poetical notebook of Robert Sidney, Earl of Leicester and brother of Sir Philip Sidney, was sold at Sotheby's on November 19th for £28,000 (see Leicester, in Part II of this volume). The importance of the manuscript apparently had escaped discovery for more than 100 years, mainly because of a mistake in attribution that had persisted since its first recorded appearance, at the Kingsborough sale in 1842. It had been assumed that "Sonnetts by the Earl of Leicester," as the spine of the binding is lettered, meant sonnets by Robert Dudley, who, after all, was the sole Earl of Leicester during Elizabeth's reign (Sidney was created Earl of Leicester in 1618). It was not until 1973 that a correctly identified sonnet from this manuscript was reproduced, in P. J. Croft's Autograph Poetry in the English Language. The manuscript, which now resides in the British Library, will be a subject of much delight and study in the years to come.

Above all, the 1974-75 auction season was one of "name" sales: Abbey, Abdy, Dicke, Evans, Horblit, Mostyn, Phillipps, Plesch, Sassoon, Scott, and, preeminently, Stockhausen.

The Ninth Portion of J. R. Abbey's library, sold at Sotheby's, comprised the second and final part of the manuscript collection that Major Abbey bought from C. H. St. J. Hornby. The star of this sale was a superb Carolingian Gospel Book, apparently written at Metz in the second quarter of the ninth century, which brought £80,000. The winter portion of a Missal written for the Augustinian Abbey of St. Etienne at Dijon, with two very fine full-page miniatures, went for £42,000. And three of the manuscripts fetched £18,000 apiece: an Arras Psalter-Hours of c.1300 with 16 illuminated pages with historiated initials and with 24 Calendar miniatures; a Missale pro defunctis of c.1320-30 written for the Benedictine Abbey of St. Jacques in Liege with a splendid crucifixion miniature; and the Bessarion-Phillipps-Beatty manuscript of Columella, Varo and Cato, written at Rome before 1472. In all, 34 manuscripts of the 9th to the 16th century sold for £286,300.

Sir Robert Abdy's library, sold by Ader Picard Tajan in Paris, was an assemblage of finely bound books which was rich in armorial and mosaic bindings, many of them by the great French binders (See Bindings in Part I). One of the most exceptional bindings graced L. J. Bourdon Desplanches' Projet nouveau sur la maniere de faire utilement en France le commerce des grains, 1785; it was of white Sevres porcelain decorated with gold, with the royal arms in an encadrement and a spine of red morocco, which sold for F92,000. Other high prices included the F170,000 paid for a copy of the Hieronymus Epistolae, the first issue of Peter Schoeffer's edition, Mainz, 7 September 1490. One of three copies printed on vellum of the 1804 Code Civil des Francais, bound for Lebrun with his cipher, fetched an astronomical F100,000. Froissart's Croniques, 1514, sold for F80,000; a large-paper copy of the second edition, 1800-19, of Duhamel du Monceau's Traite des arbres et arbustes, for F105,000; and George Edwards' The Natural History of Birds, 1802-5, a tall copy in an armorial binding, for F68,000. Of the several books of fetes in the collection, one worth noting is the Description des ceremonies . . . pour le couronnement de . . . Napoleon . . . et Josephine . . ., 1807, extra-illustrated with a second suite of the 12 plates heightened with gold, the whole bound by Tessier in red morocco with gilt palmettes and garlands, with the imperial eagle and royal cipher (F35,000).

An extensive collection of Chicago pre- and post-fire imprints from the estate of the late Mary Anne Dicke (Americana Gallery) was sold by Hanzel Galleries. The collection was distinguished by its mass and thoroughness, containing deeds and tax receipts, almanacs, city directories, charters, broadsides and catalogues. An 1839 sermon of Isaac W. Hallam, the first rector of the First Episcopal Church in Chicago, brought $1,050, and the first novel to be printed and published in Chicago, Henry A. Clarke's The War Scout of Eighteen Hundred Twelve, 1850, went for $1,200. John G. Jones's The Black Laws of Illinois . . . of 1864 brought $2,500, and the Lakeside Memorial of the Burning of Chicago, published the year after the fire and illustrated with original photographs, was knocked down at $700. The collection also included several Lincoln autograph endorsements, which ranged in price from $200 to $500.

The most interesting of this season's medical book sales was the Herbert McLean Evans Library of Medical Classics, sold by the Denver Medical Society at Swann Galleries. Dr. Evans was the discoverer of Vitamin E and a pioneer in endocrine and nutritional physiology. Many of the books in this sale were bought for a library in Japan, and high prices were paid for them. A first edition of Vesalius's De Humani corporis fabrica, 1543, "perhaps the largest copy in existence," brought $17,500; Aselli's De Lactibus, 1627, an interleaved copy with extensive commentary in an early hand, for $12,000; Fallopius's Observationes anatomicae, 1561, for $3,000; Semmelweis's Die Aetiologie, 1861, for $6,200; an inscribed copy of Jenner's Inquiry into the Causes and Effects of the Variolae Vaccinae, 1798, for $4,200; and James Lind's Treatise of the Scurvy, 1753, for $3,800. The price levels were such that a copy of Osler's Bibliotheca Osleriana, 1929, brought $325.

The second part (D-G) of Harrison Horblit's fine library of scientific books met with a somewhat disappointing reception when compared with Part I, sold last season. About 12 percent of the lots were bought in, and this section of the alphabet contained fewer major books. Nevertheless, the day's sale at Sotheby's realized £99,514. An outstanding rarity, the first edition in English of Fernandez de Enciso's A Briefe Description of the Portes, Creekes, Bayes, and Havens of the Weast Indies, 1578, sold for £10,000 (the catalogue lists three other known copies to which NUC adds Chapel Hill). The second (and best) edition of Sir Robert Dudley's Arcano del mare, 1661, sold for £9,500, topping the copy in the Scott sale by £500. A large copy of Pieter Goos's De Zee-Atlas, 1666, sold for £7,000, and one of several Galileo Galilei items, an inscribed copy of Il Saggiatore, 1623, brought £2,600. And Sigmund Freud's Die Traumdeutung, 1900, sold for a healthy £1,500.

The Mostyn Hall library, from Flintshire, Wales, sold at Christie's in October. The collection, formed largely before 1650, but with important later additions, was one of the oldest libraries in private hands to survive until present times. Previous sales, in 1909 and 1919–20, saw the dispersal of the magnificent collection of over 400 plays of the 16th and 17th centuries formed by the Mostyn family, and the greater part of the manuscript treasures. The six sessions at Christie's included the remaining—but major—portion of the printed books, and the “choice residue” of manuscripts. Highest price in the sale for a printed book was the £8,500 realized by the 1522 Aldine edition of the Comoediis of Plautus, bound for Jean Grolier by Claude de Picques. That the Plautus was but one of 33 Aldines offered in the sale testifies to the riches of the Mostyn Hall collection. Classics of a later age were also well represented. The first edition of Newton's Philosophiae naturalis principia mathematica, with the 2-line imprint, 1687, fetched £3,900, while a copy of Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations, 1776, brought £1,600. Works by Joseph Pennant were also much sought after. The first edition of The British Zoology, 1766, a particularly fine copy enhanced with George Edwards' original watercolor drawing for the Scaup Duck plate, sold for £3,600. Another Pennant work, the author's own copy of The Journey from Chester to London, 1782, went for £3,400; bound in 3 volumes, it was extra-illustrated with 80 original drawings, 63 of them by Moses Griffith, including the original drawings for the work. The most expensive of the manuscripts offered, a Latin Pentateuch with glosses, with 8 superb large illuminated initials, brought £9,500; it was written in France towards the end of the 12th century. Another French manuscript, Histoire des rois de France, jusqu'en l'an 1223, dating from the third quarter of the 14th century and with 22 fine miniatures, realized £7,000.

There were three sales from the collection of Sir Thomas Phillipps this year: New Series: Thirteenth Part—STC Books R–Z and Addenda; New Series: Fourteenth Part—Italian, Greek, Russian, Polish and Lithuanian Manuscripts; and Medieval and Oriental Manuscripts—New Series, Ninth Part. For the majority of our readers the STC books hold the most interest. Shakespeare led the list, with a copy of the First Folio bringing £12,000 and one of the Second Folio selling for £1,400. Other covetable items included Philemon Holland's Latin translation of Speed's Theatre of the Empire of Great Britaine, 1616, at £4,400; Sebastiano Serlio's First [-Fifth] Book of Architecture, 1611, at £2,500; Terence's Vulgaria, London, 1483, the only complete copy recorded and in a 15th-century binding, £9,500; Peter Martyr's Decades of the Newe World, 1555, at £6,200; and Thomas Ravenscroft's Deuteromelia, 1609, with what is probably the first appearance in print of Three Blind Mice, at £2,700. The Oriental sale, a Babel of languages, featured a splendid Persian manuscript of the Nasirean Ethics, c.1595, which sold for £48,000. Generally speaking, as the catalogue foreword points out: “No previous catalogue of the new series has demonstrated so clearly the range of Sir Thomas Phillipps's appetite: nihil manuscriptum a se alienum putabat. His chief object in collecting was to preserve what might otherwise have been neglected or destroyed and he was usually content to leave the scholarly exploitation of his possessions to others.”

THE AUCTION SEASON

The first part of the sale of the Stiftung fur Botanik, whose collection was formed by the international lawyer Arpad Plesch, was sold at Sotheby in June. Here a superb copy of Duhamel du Monceau's Traite des arbres et arbustes, the second edition, 1800-19, sold for £21,000. The first four volumes were bound by Bradel l'aîné for, and with the arms of, Francis I, Emperor of Austria, and the remaining three volumes were bound to match, perhaps in Vienna. A still more famous work was Basilius Besler's Hortus Eystettensis, 1613. This fascinating inventory of the domestic and exotic plants grown in the gardens of the Prince Bishop of Eichstatt sold for £16,000. A complete run of Curtis's Botanical Magazine, 1787-1968, brought £10,000. Other highly desirable works included the only complete copy known of Pierre Philippe Alyon's Cours de botanique pour servir à l'éducation des enfans de . . . le Duc d'Orleans, 1787-88, for £9,200; the rare folio Cruydeboeck of Rembert Dodens, 1552-54, with what have been called the most beautiful German floral illustrations ever produced, for £8,000; and Knorr's Thesaurus rei herbariae hortensisque universalis, 1750-52, for £8,000. The remaining two parts of this sale will be reported in Volume 82 of ABPC.

Would that all literary figures of Siegfried Sassoon's stature kept their manuscripts, books, and correspondence as carefully as he did. This collection was sold at Christie's for a total of £107,919, and the catalogue itself is a useful tool for literary historians. One of the most fascinating items was a copy of Robert Graves's Good-Bye to All That, 1929, heavily annotated by both Sassoon and Edmund Blunden (£2,850). Sassoon was an inveterate maker of corrections and notes in his own books and those of others. Some of his notes concern printing history, others are critical, and at times he was moved to brilliant parody. His correspondence files included masses of significant letters from Edmund Blunden (a lot which brought £4,800), E. M. Forster (£3,200), Robert Graves (£3,800), T. E. Lawrence (£4,200) and other literary figures. And the manuscript material in the sale ranged from childhood exercise books (£850) through Memoirs of a Fox-Hunting Man (£3,200) to an unpublished sequel to Siegfried's Journey (£2,400).

December saw a two-day sale at Christie's of the splendid collection of books devoted to naval architecture and marine science formed by John Scott, 19th-century shipbuilder, engineer, inventor and bibliophile, which had been the property of the Royal Institution of Naval Architects. Among the classic works in the sale, a copy of the first edition of Sir Robert Dudley's Dell' Arcano del mare, 1646-47, brought £8,400. Another prize was Theunis Jacobsz's The Lightning Columne, or Sea-Mirroure, 1677 (£7,200). The first and second parts of the work are the 4th edition in English, unrecorded and apparently unique, as is Part Three, the 1st edition in English. John Dee's General and Rare Memorials Pertayning to the Perfect Arte of Navigation, London, 1577, brought £3,800. Let us add an approving word for the catalogue Christie's prepared for this sale, which also included items from the Denny Library of the Royal Institution of Architects. It has long been a source of annoyance and confusion to read catalogues of sales formed around a major collection but containing books from other sources which are not specifically identified as such. To Christie's great credit, the books from the Scott and Denny libraries were scrupulously identified as to provenance.

The high point of the American season was unquestionably the two-part William Stockhausen sale at Sotheby Parke Bernet. With the exceedingly rare 1827 Tamerlane of E. A. Poe leading the parade at $123,000, one high price followed another in dizzying procession. The 1829 Al Aaraaf, Tamerlane and Minor Poems brought $40,000 and Prose Romances of Edgar Allan Poe, containing the "Murders in the Rue Morgue," 1843, sold for $20,000, although the wraps were in facsimile, for it was one of three in private hands. Indeed, condition occasionally seemed to be of minor importance: Melville's The Whale, although rubbed and soiled, brought $17,000, and a rebacked Kilmarnock Burns sold for $9,000. There were pristine copies to be had, however: Johnson's Dictionary, 1755, in the original boards and uncut, sold for $2,500; one of the two known copies of Goldsmith's Vicar of Wakefield still in original boards fetched $5,000; and a series of Jane Austen novels in original boards brought wild prices—Sense and Sensibility at $5,500, Pride and Prejudice at $4,000, Mansfield Park at $4,250, Emma at $2,750, and Northanger Abbey at $1,800. Stockhausen collected both American and British authors, and had substantial holdings of several. Over 100 lots were devoted to Robert Frost, with a copy of A Boy's Will inscribed to Wilfrid Gibson selling for $2,700 and a copy of North of Boston, also inscribed to Gibson, bringing $2,500. Important Frost manuscript material was also sold: a collection of 32 letters to Wade Van Dore went for $10,000, 6 autograph letters to Marie Hodge, with related material, brought $5,000, and an Ms notebook sold for $3,750. Hemingway and Faulkner were also represented in depth. Faulkner's first book, The Marble Faun, brought $4,000 for an inscribed copy, and Hemingway's in our time, inscribed and 1 of 170, sold for $2,800. Other American stars of the sale were Clemens' Ms of The Sandwich Islands, $9,000; that of Hawthorne's The Lily's Quest, $5,250; an inscribed copy of the first American edition of Melville's Typee, $5,500, and Moby Dick, a "fine copy with almost pristine wrappers," $4,250. English literature was well represented, with copies of the Second, Third, and Fourth Folios of Shakespeare bringing $8,000, $9,500, and $6,750, while the quartos of Midsummer Night's Dream (2d Ed, 1619), Henry the Fifth (3d Ed, 1619), and Romeo and Juliet (5th Ed, 1637), brought $11,000, $7,500, and $5,000 respectively. A first of Robert Herrick's Hesperides sold for $9,000; Gray's Elegy brought $6,500; Richardson's Pamela went for $4,750; Wordsworth's An Evening Walk, his first book, sold for $3,750; a fine copy of Keats's Lamia, Isabella . . . in the original boards and uncut fetched $5,200; and Shelley's Adonais, Pisa, 1821, brought $5,250. Finally, a copy of Dickens' Great Expectations, cited by Eckel as "matchless," went for $5,500. In short, the Stockhausen sale was one of those major upheavals in the history of book auctions that have a violent effect on prices.

THE AUCTION SEASON
